

Nancy Martin chewing 5 sticks gum

MATCH

P. Sayersth Engle

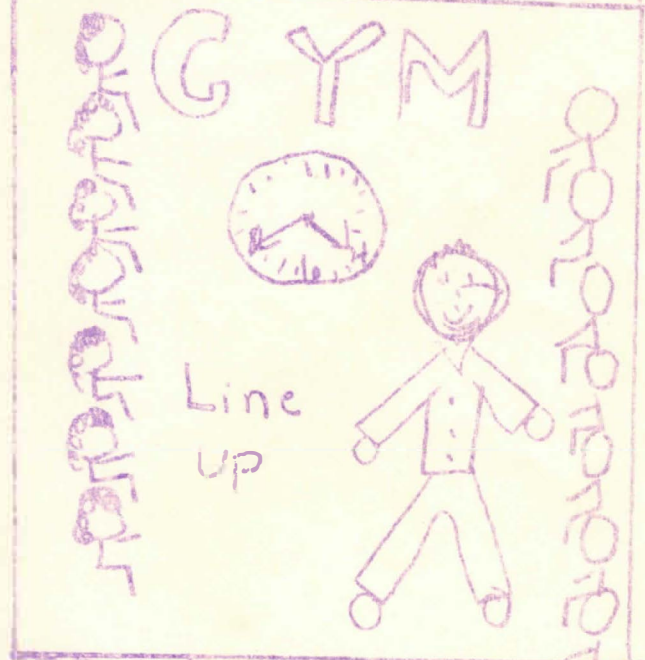

d. Reeves

T. Miller

"Dance With me Henry" C. Whipple

Tom: The snake I saw on the path turned out to be a stick.

Dick: Then why do you look so pale?

Tom: The stick I picked up to hit it with turned out to be a snake.

Mother: I hear that instead of going to church you played ball.

Carl: It's a lie, and I have the fish to prove it.

Dr. Clark: Can you describe the boy who hit you?

Victim: Certainly I can. That's what he hit me for.

POEM

The panther is like a leopard
Except that it hasn't been pappered
Should you see a panther crouch
Prepare to say ouch!
Better yet, if called by a panther,
Don't anther.